Colostrum is the best of what Mother Nature gives us into life. Milk first hours of life. This nutrient is unique in nature because it contains protective Immunoglobulins in the highest nature concentration. Nowadays more and more research shows how enormous value colostrum (foremilk) constitutes to human health. It meets the highest requirements on the quality at process of getting and processing – only the excess milk of the first 12 hours after birth because it has the highest content of Immunoglobulins, patented, high-priced and the regardful way of producing by cold, purely from cows of Germany, Austria and Switzerland. Due to this there is achieved in the finished product the highest possible concentration of contained substances.

What brings COLOSTRUM? Calves get their immunity protection purely of the first milk. Therefore the cow Colostrum (foremilk) has the highest part of Immunoglobulins especially in the first 12 hours after birth. Substances contained in Colostrum act as vaccinations of a calf – they offer an extensive maternal immune protection. Why is COLOSTRUM so valuable? It contains highly specific immunologically active substances such as Immunoglobulins (IgG, IgM, IgA, IgE) in high concentration. They are specific antibodies that are aimed directly attacking viruses and bacteria and destroy them. Immune regulators (Cytokine, Lactoferrin, Interleukin and many others) start and harmonize the protective reaction of the body. Growth factors (IGF 1 a 2, TGF, EGF and others) direct cellular and substance regeneration and stimulate regeneration of hair growth and vitamins, minerals, trace elements and amino acids.
